CPS Debaters Lead Tourney Of 5 Colleges

CPS debaters came out in the lead at the practice tournament held here with five other colleges Saturday, Nov. 16. In the extemporaneous speaking Margarita Irie, Yoshiteru Kawano, and Sam Batt all took first places.

CPS won 20 of the 28 debates in which the various men's and women's teams took part. Approximately 60 per cent of the decisions were given to the affirmative on the question, which was "Resolved: That the nations of the western hemisphere should form a permanent union."

The five colleges contending with CPS were Seattle Pacific college, Seattle college, Pacific Lutheran, St. Martin's, and Mt. Vernon junior college.

Judges for the tournament were coaches from the visiting teams and faculty members.

Dr. Battin announces that a practice debate tournament to which CPS has been invited will be held at Seattle Pacific college Dec. 6. Several of the men's and women's teams are planning to attend.

Justine DeWolfe reported Wednesday noon to members of the debate squad on the Western Association of Teachers of Speech convention which she attended at Pasadena, California, in Los Angeles, Nov. 18, 19 and 20.

Ski Club Plans Ice-Skating Party

The CPS Ski club is sponsoring the first ice-skating party of the year next Tuesday, from 5:15 to 7 o'clock. The admission will be 32 cents because of state tax, and there will be a special student rate of 16 cents for skate rental.

Tickets will be sold in all sororities and fraternities and by all ski club members. "Future skating parties will depend upon the way the students support this one. We want everyone to come and make our first ice-skating party of the year a huge success," said Chuck Swanson, chairman of the party.

Mr. Cromwell will speak on ski insurance at the next meeting of the club Monday noon in room 209.

Jack Seltzer, head of transportation committee, posted telephone numbers on the bulletin board in room 209 and asks that anyone wanting a ride to the mountain or anyone wanting passengers please sign there, or call those numbers.

CLUB MEMBERS STUDY AMERICAN RELATIONS

Members of the I. R. C., or International Relations club met Monday night, Nov. 18, at Dr. Williston's home to continue the discussion on the subject of South America's relations to the United States. Mrs. Charles Robbins and Dick Krogh spoke on the culture of the country to the south of us.

"One thing which the South Americans can not understand is why a dignitary from the United States always visits their country in a man-of-war," remarked Mrs. Robbins.

The next meeting of the club will be held Monday night, Dec. 2, at Dr. Williston's home.

'Our Town,' Featuring Barren Stage, Presented Tonight

Dick Sloat (left), graduate assistant director, looks over the set of "Our Town" with Anita Misener and George Ellis, romantic leads. The play, to be given here tonight and tomorrow night, is from the pen of Thornton Wilder.

'Joan of Arc' Show To Be First Feature In New Artist Series

This year the college is again sponsoring an artist series for the students, faculty, and friends of the college. The first of three varied programs will be given Saturday, Dec. 7, with the Stevens marionettes presenting an adult marionet show, "Joan of Arc." According to information received by Mr. Kohler, the Stevens players are at present touring the country.

On Feb. 17, Julian De Gray, pianist, is to be the second feature of the series. In addition to playing a concert, Mr. De Gray is to be on the campus for three days, during which time he will play for students, and also listen to those who desire to play for him. His campus schedule will be announced later.

The last feature of the series is to be an opera given by the Lyric opera group of Seattle, revealed Mr. Kohler of the music department. "The opera has not yet been chosen, but will be announced when it is to be given. This group was very well liked by the college last year, especially as the opera was presented in English."

Tickets for the series are priced the same as last year; season tickets, $2.50 for adults, and $1.05 for students. Single admission tickets are $1.00 for adults and 53 cents for students. They will be on sale in the bookstore, from members of the Spurs, or in the lower hall before the concerts.

Tomorrow Is Deadline For Christmas Photos

Today and tomorrow are the final days for students to have their pictures taken who expect to use the prints for Christmas presents, announces Krug-Lutz, photographer for the 1941 Tam-anawas.

Seniors are requested to have at least one pose taken with the hat straight on the head. Four proofs and an 8 by 10 enlargement are, as usual, $1.50, with the optional price of 75 cents for reprints from last year's book.

Group Pictures Start Monday

Science Classes to Sponsor Lecture On 'Sun in Action'

"The Sun in Action" is the subject of the next program to be presented by the World Today lecture series of the College of Puget Sound, Monday, Dec. 9, at 8 p. m. in the First Baptist church.

This will be an illustrated lecture by Dr. Seth B. Nicholson of the Mount Wilson observatory, near Pasadena, Cal. Presented as the first program of the natural science department of the college, it is made possible by the Astronomical society of the Pacific, which is this year for the first time extending its public lectures to the Pacific Northwest.

The lecture will be sponsored locally by the College of Puget Sound and the Tacoma Amateur Astronomers club. It will be offered to the general public without charge.

SAYS SENATORS BLOCK ANTI-LYNCHING BILLS

Detrimental effects of race antagonism in the United States were emphasized yesterday by Walter White, prominent negro speaker, in two addresses given at CPS.

The speaker showed that anti-lynching bills have been blocked not because of general feeling that there is a necessity for lynching, but because of personal prejudice on the part of Southern senators.

Pres. Todd and Dr. Means Solicit Funds for College

President Edward H. Todd and Dr. Paul B. Means spent three days of the Thanksgiving holidays in Aberdeen, Hoquiam and Montesano making speeches and soliciting college funds. A speech was made by Dr. Means at Aberdeen, and Dr. Todd spoke at Methodist churches in Hoquiam and Montesano.

Wednesday evening before the trip, Dr. Todd delivered the annual Thanksgiving address to the South Tacoma Kiwanis club.

First-Nighters Will See 'Our Town' Tonight

By BETTY THRALLS

Simply and beautifully written is Thornton Wilder's quiet, warm, deeply understanding play, "Our Town," being presented this afternoon, tonight, and tomorrow night by the Campus Playcrafters of the College of Puget Sound, in the auditorium of Jones Hall.

Produced upon a bare stage without curtains or scenery, the play is an honest, human portrayal of a cross-section of the life of the men, women, and children that make up "Our Town"—in this case, Grovers Corners, New Hampshire.

Directed by Miss Martha Pearl Jones, the cast of 55 members is headed by Dick Sloat as stage manager; Wilbur Baisinger as Doc Gibbs; Ruth Pauline Todd as Mrs. Gibbs; Jack McGuire as Editor Webb; Helen Gessaman as Mrs. Webb; Anita Misener as Emily, and George Ellis as George.

Others in the cast are: Doris Meredith, Jack Regester, Bob Alberston, Clair Hanson, Keith DeFolo, Carol Webb, Bill Stewart, Annabel Miller, Marshall Graham, Patricia Hansen, Willard Gee, Charles Swanson, Philip Walesby, Stanley Burke, Paul Pruitt, Margarita Irie, Mildred McKenzie, Bob Elliott, Roland Lutz, Lorraine Justman, Esther Sandstedt, Sylvia Langdon, Margaret Varnes, Florence Darrow, Peggy Thompson, Betty Thralls, Cyril Hansen, Phil Raymond, Donald Gessaman, Asa Maylott, Velma Powers, Mary Ellen Peterson, Gale Sampson, Anita Sherman, Doris Wittren, Peggy Steele, and Russell Alsgaard.

Adult admission prices will be 40 cents, and student admission, 20 cents. Students of the college will be admitted upon presentation of their student body cards.

On the production staff are Dick Sloat, graduate assistant director; Wilbur Baisinger, dramatic manager; David Davies, assistant dramatic manager; Willard Bellman, electrician; Matthew Seto, Donald Gessaman, Mildred McKenzie, Mary Ellen Peterson, Margarita Irie, Jack Richards, Jack Leggee, Doris Wittren, and Helen Kutcher.

The organist will be Grace Johnson and ushers will be Spurs and Knights of the Log.

Friday afternoon's audience will consist of 500 high school students from the dramatic departments of the valley high schools, invited by the campus playcrafters. This matinee has become an annual feature on the program of the dramatic art department of the college.

Luncheon - Meeting Dec. 4 For La Mesa Redonda

Old and prospective members of the La Mesa Redonda, CPS Spanish club, are urged to be present at a luncheon-meeting to be held this coming Wednesday noon, Dec. 4, in room 14 of Howarth hall, across the hall from the Commons in Dr. Seward's room.

Officers for the coming year will be elected and plans for a Christmas social will be discussed. All students who have completed a year of Spanish in college or its equivalent are cordially invited. Everyone is asked to bring his own lunch.

ASCPS Budget 'Puts Bee On' Old Joke About 'Where Does Our 15 Dollars Go?'

CPS students are all familiar with derisive remarks to the general effect that they see no returns on the $7.50 ASCPS fee required at registration. This fee with its benefits is one of the standing jokes on the campus. Three football games, a hopeful number of Trails, and a Tamanawas for $15—that has been the consensus of opinion concerning student body fees.

Last week in the Trail an itemized account of the budget was printed showing exactly what is spent where. The fixed amounts of $1,000 to Trail and Tamanawas are given out as well as $600 for incidentals. The remaining money is divided as follows on a percentage basis: 50 per cent, athletics; 12 per cent, forensics; 10 per cent, women's athletics; 10 per cent, men's intramurals; 9 per cent, dramatics; 9 per cent, music. Obviously, students who participate in any extra-curricular activity derive benefit from their $7.50 in one manner or another.

A glance at the list of incidentals shows expenditures for stationery, May Day, president's ring, pep department, telephone and other programs and worthwhile items. Every CPS student who bemoans his $7.50 student body fee should study the budget printed in the Nov. 15 Trail. If he cannot find some personal benefit he derives from that money, he at least must admit that the associated student body as a whole is better because of it.

It takes some of the joy out of motoring when you realize that many of the people you would most enjoy taking for a ride, have better ears than yours.

Here is a formula for learning how to think: 1. Sit down facing a blank wall. 2. Ask yourself difficult questions. 3. Answer them.

Considering how far apart most people's ears are, there really isn't any excuse for narrow-mindedness.

Definition of a pedestrian—a man whose son is home from college.

Extra-Curricular and Social Activities Interfere With Students' Study Hours

The problem of an overwhelming number of extra-curricular activities and an over-filled social calendar is becoming a vital issue at CPS. In a past issue of the Trail appeared a story from the office of Mrs. Drushel, dean of women, telling of next semester's social calendar. It was reported that 24 dates have already been taken and that there are, of course, more still to be scheduled.

In the Trail's last issue was a questionnaire on the point system as it might be applied to extra-curricular activities. The opinions of several members of the student body given in the questionnaire proved definitely that a point system was not a practical solution, viewpoints being too varied. The matter is now before Central Board for consideration.

Each year new activities have been created to supplement those already in existence. Their number multiplies yearly. In order that the calendar hold these activities, college studies have been made to suffer. By not budgeting their time, students have broadened their participation in social affairs to the point where grade averages cannot but go down. CPS, an institution of higher learning rather than a "glorified country club," must not permit itself to be overrun by this flood of social life.

There are only two plausible solutions at the present time. Either the college should reduce the great number of activities, each of which is meant to fill a definite need and purpose, or the students must exert self-discipline in their social participation, placing study foremost in their time budget.

College Growth Is Principal Item In President Todd's Annual Report

This is the first of five articles to be printed in the Trail, describing "The President's Annual Report, 1939-1940" issued recently as a college bulletin.

President Todd's twenty-seventh annual report on the College of Puget Sound was issued recently to the board of trustees.

The introduction by the president compared the financial and academic status of the college in 1940 with its condition in 1913. In addition to the president's report are reports by other officers and department heads of the college.

The president begins his report with the enrolment figures of last year. The 1940 graduating class of 116 students was the largest in the history of the college. The enrolment, last year 692 first semester and 652 second, was the greatest ever at the college.

President Todd commented on the number of graduates now attending graduate school in various parts of the country. He continues with a history of the college from its beginning in 1888 to the present time.

Faculty Organization

The first head under the president's report is "Faculty Organization." Years ago there were as many as twenty faculty committees. Now there are but five standing faculty committees—administrative, rules and regulations, scholarships and awards, extramural and graduate work, and honors.

There are faculty members on the chapel committee, the placements bureau, and the academic functions committee.

Under "Organizations of Curriculum" is a list of the various departments with the names of their heads. Following this topic is a report of the work of the curriculum committee.

BIOLOGY

Of interest to the college is the news of four meetings of Scientific societies in the science hall in the last month. The Puget Sound Academy of Science held their meeting last Wednesday, Nov. 20; the Northwest Bird and Mammal Society on Saturday evening, Nov. 6; the Puget Sound Entomological Society Friday, Oct. 25, afternoon and evening, and the WPA class, which met in the museum to study birds.

CHEMISTRY

A few members of the junior division of the ACS met at the University last Friday for their annual meeting to hear Professor John Yoe of the University of Virginia, who spoke on colorimetric analysis.

The election of Dr. Fehlandt to the vice presidency of the senior division of the Puget Sound district of the ACS has recently been announced.

GEOLOGY

Professor McMillan has recently received a group of rounded stones from a gravel pit in the West Central Nebraska region. They are thought to be the eggs of a small dinosaur (proteosaurus), for similar ones found have been classified as such by paleontologists of the mid-western universities. "Mac" has his own mental reservations on the subject, however.

Attention optical mineralogy class: "Mac" tells us that he feels that there is a much needed boost coming to you—from his toe.

PHYSICS

Mr. F. B. Mossman has been and is a true friend of the college, especially to the Physics department. Mr. Mossman, who is connected with the Bell Telephone laboratories, recently presented to Dr. Seward for the college technical equipment which had been used but has been replaced by much newer equipment. Dr. Seward estimates the value of the equipment to have been, when new, about ten thousand dollars.

Organization of the Campus

The topic "Organization of the Campus" describes the history of the campus, and explains the choice of the type of architecture for buildings. The president tells of plans for the buildings and grounds for the campus in years to come. He tells of trips he has taken in connection with campus improvement.

"Student Body Organization" describes the powers and activities of the ASCPS. President Todd points out and praises student participation in religious chapel.

The "Alumni Organization" tells of the work of Richard Smith in connection with alums and new students, and "Financial Operations" is a section telling of Professor Robbins' work as bursar of the college.

"Care of Buildings, Grounds, and Equipment," describes conditions of Anderson hall and plans about the library and student union buildings which are being studied. President Todd tells of attention that is continually being attracted to the college by its enlarged building plans.

CPS Artists Have Exhibits Displayed In Downtown Show

Tacoma's National Art Week

exhibition has been open to the public in the Washington building since last Monday, ending Sunday, Dec. 1. The hours are from 11 a. m. to 9 p. m. every day.

Some college students placing work on display are Winfield Brown and Willard Bellman in photography, Frances Chubb with oil paintings and linoleum prints, and Jane Ogden showing block prints and lithographs.

"There were about 150 entrees, including oil paintings, water colors, sculpture, wood carving, weaving and other crafts," explained Prof. Robert Drummond, who is assisting Melvin Kohler, head of the CPS art department, with the local show.

Every evening at the Washington building, an artist is occupied in doing some artistic work for exhibition to the public.

According to Mr. Drummond, the purpose of the occasion is to acquaint more people with local art and interest them in buying it.

GIRLS PLAN CONTEST IN PADDLE SPORTS

This year a round robin tournament is being held to determine girls' champion in badminton and ping pong. The three girls who rated highest in each class in the recent ladder matches for the two sports will play during the next two weeks at noon.

Third Symphony Concert

The Tacoma Philharmonic orchestra announces its third performance in the 1940-41 season.

The soloist for the second concert, Nov. 19, was Robert Schmitts, a Frenchman who is hailed as one of the greatest living concert pianists. The third concert, Dec. 17, presents Fred Rothchild, young Portland pianist, and the soloist for the fourth concert on Feb. 4 is to be announced later.

I stayed awake last night worrying; I couldn't study today; I have a chance to earn some money working for my dad but I can't do it—how will I tell dad?

You see, a group of reforming students passed the point system and I will have too many points if I take the job.

I take 15 hours, ..... 30 points

I am a member of the freshman class ..... 10 points

I clean Dr. Shafer's

erasers, a "B" and 18½ points

I sang in Chapel the last five Wednesdays ..... 6½ points

That adds up to 65 points and according to my height and weight and chest expansion that is all I am allowed to have.

Although I am losing money and have become very nervous because of worry, I see the values in the point system—33 N Y A workers and two new faculty men have been hired to keep track of our points and a new building is being constructed to contain the files.

Monday's chapel was so tremendously uplifting and culturally beneficial that we decided to take it down and thus preserve it eternally. Yosh speaks:

What is your name—Mr. Albert Einstein?—Oh, yes, I've heard about you but at the moment I can't think of the reason why. Now the highly interesting question you must answer is—"Why must Daddy beat the young man eight to the bar instead of nine?"

tsk—tsk—

What is your name? . . . Miss Eve Curie . . . Oh, yes, say what ever happened to Adam? Ha—Ha—And your deep philosophical question is . . . 'How many houses could be painted red if all the lip-stick used in a year were made into Bri-T Stri-P paint and sold for 14 cents ($0.14) a quart at Kress? . . . What! you say you can't reason this out . . . Well, this will disappoint our students, Miss Curie . . . they have been eagerly anticipating the answer to this problem. This concludes my quiz program . . . We will soon have another and then I will try to obtain two more representative assistants than today's. Meanwhile I will continue to gather more thought-provoking questions that will give their brains the same test as today."

Gammas Again Win Sorority Volleyball

The intersorority volleyball championship was won by the Gammas, who came through a successful season winning three games.

The Independents placed second with three wins and one loss. The Thetas were third, splitting their games, with two wins and two losses. The Betas were fourth with one win and three losses and Lamdas ended in the cellar, having lost all their games.

GIRLS START BASKETBALL

Girls' basketball turnout got underway this week with intersorority play Wednesday noon and interclass play Friday. The two turnouts will alternate on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays until Dec. 17.

Six Dances Before Christmas Holidays Are Planned by College Social Groups

Christmas will be ushered in by six dances to take place in December. Plans for varied and interesting motifs are being made by the Greek letter and honor groups.

Lambdas Use Snowballs

Lambda Sigma Chi members and pledges will dance Dec. 14 under a snowball-covered ceiling of the Crystal ballroom in the Winthrop hotel. Glistening snow, colored spot lights and a glittering Christmas tree will constitute the effect of a typical wintry Christmas scene.

Assisting Pat Gannon, chairman for the annual Yuletide dance, will be Ki Woods, Pat Johnson, Ruth Pauline Todd, Beverly Berlie and Kay Copeland. All pledges and members will work on committees.

Display Pioneer Days

A joint Delta Alpha Gamma and Alpha Chi Nu sport dance will also be held Saturday, Dec. 14 at Steilacoom lake. Since the motif will concern frontier days decorations will comprise a saloon, covered wagons and a small log cabin.

Chairman Noreen Stendal will be assisted by co-chairmen Jane Sorenson and Doree Sacks. Committee members are: Corinne Picard, Jean Rohmer and Barbara Jacobson, orchestra; Beverlee Burrows, Sue Lidron and Maureen Martin, location; Jane Grondahl, June Larson, Hazel McCullough, Roberta Humble, Pat Glover, Emily Spring, Edith Plager, Betty Jane Graham, Mary Cornell, Betty Mae Hampton, Marie Canca-non and Jane Hudson, decorations.

Dance Is Semi-Formal

Lakewood Center will be the location of the Delta Kappa Phi fraternity dance to be held Dec. 21. Bob Healey's orchestra will entertain, according to Ted Haley, chairman of the semi-formal dance.

Joint Dance Held

"Pioneer Days" will be the motif of the joint dance to be given Dec. 21 by the members and pledges of the Lambda Sigma Chi sorority and Sigma Zeta Epsilon fraternity. This sport dance will be held in the roof garden of the Masonic temple according to the co-chairmen of the affair, Bob Hedberg and Harry Werbisky.

Honor Group Has "Brawl"

Spurs, and Knights of the Log will hold a joint sport dance Dec. 20 at the Slavonian hall. "Water-front Brawl" is to be the motif and music will be furnished by a "juke-box," says Chairman Buster Brown.

Friday the 13th Motif

The girls of Anderson Hall have set Friday the thirteenth of December as the date for an informal dinner dance which will carry out a theme of superstitions and witches, with mysterious lighting to add atmosphere.

Peggy Steele, social chairman, will have assisting her Esther Mann and Ruth Hanawalt in charge of hall decorations; Betty Mae Hampton, music; Berget Carlson, dance programs, and Mary Frances Johnson, food and table decorations.

Omicron Members Skip; Leave Pledges Working

"Variety is the spice of Life," says the prophet. At least the fraternities believe in this, for on Wednesday night the Omicron members skipped out on their bewildered pledges for an evening of bowling.

After spending hours in serious labor, the pledges emerged from the basement—not being familiar with the first floor—and found a note informing them that the tables were turned.

Monthly Tuition Payment Due to Bursar by Dec. 1

Again the bursar reminds students that the monthly deferred payment plan for tuition requires another payment on Dec. 1 to cover fees.

"It is vital that each monthly payment be made promptly, thus liquidating the fees for the semester, according to plan," states Mr. Robbins. "Otherwise a student might find himself coming up to the final examinations with fees unpaid and, of course, would be unable to take the semester examinations."

Annual Stag Party Planned for Dec. 6

Remember Friday, Dec. 6 as a red-letter day fellows, and don't make any dates! Starting at 7 o'clock the annual Y. M. C. A. stag party will be held in the gym. Weldon Rau, chairman of the affair, promises refreshments as well as plenty of excitement.

"Last year there were about 100 fellows over here, and they all had a good time. We want to see that many this year," said Larry Henderson.

The program consists of a Japanese jiu jitsu exhibition and a volleyball game between students and faculty members. A short series of motion pictures will be shown also.

Herman Kleiner will be master of ceremonies. Assisting Weldon are Winston Moberg, Norman Breckner and Shigio Wakamatsu. The admission will be 10 cents.

Puppet Play Scheduled For German Club Dec. 1

The German club will feature a puppet play at its next meeting Tuesday noon in room 209. The German club got its idea for puppets from Dr. Price, head of the German department at the University of Southern California, who brought his puppets to German Camp last summer.

The play to be given next Tuesday is one that was given at camp and specially adapted for the German club puppets. The puppets' heads are made of clay and fit over one finger; the clothes fit over the rest of the head. The play takes place on a small specially built stage in room 209. The puppets were made by Mrs. Huseman, mother of one of the students.

Weekend Firesides Planned by Groups

Three firesides will take place this weekend according to tentative plans made by the Sigma Mu Chi, Alpha Chi Nu, and Delta Kappa Phi fraternities, and the YW-YMCA.

Mu Chi Chairmen Dick Watson and Chuck Swanson have made plans to meet Friday night; Tom Barker and Russ Warner, Chi Nu co-chairmen, have made tentative plans for Friday night; Delta Kapp chairmen, Jimmy Paulson and Ted Haley, have planned to meet Saturday night. Dancing and the serving of refreshments will take place both evenings.

Invitations were left in the student mail boxes Thursday for everyone to attend the fireside being sponsored by the Y. M. C. A.-Y. W. C. A. groups Sunday, Dec. 1.

Christmas program will be presented and the hours are from 3 to 5 o'clock at the Witan House, 1914 North Anderson street.

Mrs. Paul Todd will speak on "The Madonna," showing pictures to illustrate her topic. Following Mrs. Todd's talk, refreshments will be served, according to Louise Durand who is chairman of the fireside. Odeena Jensen, Lorraine Justman, Mildred Blake, Dorothy Wolf, Cyril Hanson, Winfield Brown and others assisting Louise.

Central Board Cuts Number of Chapels

Advisability of curtailing the number of student chapels in order to avoid duplication of students acting for the various groups was discussed at the last meeting of Central board.

It was decided that Vice President Doty Mulligan should judge which programs will be omitted this year.

Mark Porter, business manager of the Trail, reported on the financial condition of the student newspaper at this meeting. He described the intensive advertising campaign being undertaken by the journalism classes and stressed the need for student support of Trail advertisers.

To replace Bob Ridgeway, whose resignation as music manager was accepted by the board, Ed Miller was appointed.

Students Are Commended By Thanksgiving Chairman

"I want to thank all the students for their generous contributions and the co-operation they gave in distributing Thanksgiving baskets," says Ruth McCrea, chairman of the annual Thanksgiving basket drive.

The college was responsible for the delivery of 12 baskets to needy families. Each sorority, fraternity, the Independents, the Witan and the Nippons had families and, according to Ruth McCrea, there was no difficulty in filling 12 bountiful baskets.

WALTER, PARKS PLAN MURAL PROGRAM

Cage Squad Awaits Opening Game With Bellingham Normal

Coach Stuart Parks is preparing his varsity cage squad for actual scrimmage practice this coming week in anticipation of the opening game of the season against Western College of Education, Dec. 7 at Bellingham.

Several independent outfits have been lined up for practice scrimmages, and in addition to this Coach Parks will still keep stressing fundamentals and technique in workouts this coming week.

The squad was bolstered considerably this week with the addition of Bill McLaughlin and Bob Moles.

McLaughlin was a big factor in sparking the varsity to the Northwest Conference title and was awarded the inspirational award at the completion of last year's season.

Moles, who played tackle on the varsity football team, will add much needed height to the squad and according to advance notices is some shakes of a ball handler.

Intramural Games

Games for next Tuesday are as follows:

12:15—Alpha Chi Nu vs. Nippons.

12:15—Delta Pi Omicron vs. Sigma Mu Chi.

1:15—Sigma Zeta Epsilon vs. Independents.

These three games will bring to a close the 1940 intramural volleyball season.

... it's like this ...

By WEBB and WALTER

The 1940 all-star Northwest Conference grid eleven was chosen this week and CPS did all right by its self in landing three berths on the first team and one place on the second eleven. . . . Darrell "Red" Underwood was named at one end position, Ed Buscko was placed in the center spot, and Bill Madden landed a halfback berth for the second time. . . . Bill McLaughlin was placed at quarterback on the second team. . . . following is a complete lineup of the first and second team. . .

FIRST TEAM		SECOND TEAM
Ed Buscko, CPS	C	Anderson, Pacific
Don Bryant, Pacific	LG	Trout, Linfield
Tony Frioalo, Willamette	RG	More, Willamette
Art Harshberger, C. of Idaho	LT	Roloff, Pacific
Phil O'Mara, Linfield	RT	Cline, Willamette
Darrell Underwood, CPS	LE	Blankley, C. of Idaho
John Kolb, Willamette	RE	Gipe, Pacific
Ralph Bennett, C. of Idaho	Q	McLaughlin, CPS
Bill Madden, CPS	H	Stewart, Willamette
Bill Walden, Willamette	H	Drury, Willamette
Len Gilman, Pacific	F	Reynolds, Willamette
	H	Heilsberg, Whitman

Biggest football game of the year for Tacoma will be tonight when the Pacific Lutheran Gladiators go against the big, powerful Gonzaga eleven. . . . player to watch will be Tony Canadeo, triple-threat halfback for the Zags. . . . Gus Dorais, Detroit University Coach, considers him the best back his team faced all season. . . . back in 1938 Tony scored two touchdowns by run-backs of kick-offs each of which were over 100 yards. . . . against Washington State he galloped 105 yards and against Loyola 102 yards. . .

This game has caught the fancy of the public. . . . advance sale of tickets assure a big crowd. . . . the Litkenhaus Difference by Score System rates Gonzaga at 67.06 and PLC at 60.06. . . . these figures won't mean much though when Tommerville starts firing those passes. . . . incidentally, Washington State's Billy Sewell showed that the Zag defense against short passes over the line is not so strong. . . . he connected time and again. . . . Gonzaga is guaranteed $2,000 for this game, which is indeed a tidy sum. . .

Back in 1938 the headlines were filled with the name DeCorrevant. . . . he came out of Austin High in Chicago the most publicized prep football player of our time. . . . he went to Northwestern along with another teammate, Alf Bauman, an unknown tackle on the same Austin team. . . . this week the United Press's All-Big Ten football team was released. . . . on the first eleven at right tackle was the name Alf Bauman. . . . the name DeCorrevant was not listed on the first or second team. . . . which is all too often the way these stories turn out. . . .

Willamette copped the Northwest conference title by knocking over Whitman, 19 to 0, which gives them this title six times in seven years, which also speaks well for their coach, Spec Keene. . . . Len Gilman, Pacific's perpetual motion halfback, was placed on the all-conference team for the fourth consecutive time this year. . .

ATHLETIC EQUIPMENT AVAILABLE EVERYDAY

All types of intramural equipment, from basketballs to tennis and badminton rackets will be available every day to the men students. Coach Parks has put Harry Werbisky in charge of the equipment room from the hours of 12 to 2.

The individual will be held responsible for anything checked out.

RINGER SLINGERS APPROACH FINALS

Rapidly approaching the end, the horseshoe listings show Jim Paulson and Herman Kleiner holding a lead in the doubles event while Paulson and Clair Hanson are marching toward the singles finals.

Tuesday, the Delta Kapp pitchers pushed the Zete team of Walter and Walter out of the running in the semi-finals event, the match going to three games. Every game was close but Hermie found the stake too often and his ringers proved a decided obstacle for the Alder Street team.

Setup Promises New Sports For 1941 Intramural Season

New sports will find their way into the intramural setup this year when the plan formulated by Head Manager Frank Walter and Coach Stuart Parks goes into effect for the 1941 mural program.

Leading the list will be bowling, individual tournaments and team; bridge, swimming and track. Enlarging the old schedule will be individual events in the fields of tennis, golf and badminton.

Easily surpassing anything offered by the old program, this new outlook gives every man in school a chance to find a place in intramural activity, which is designed for the sole purpose of offering to those who have not the ability to play varsity athletics, a chance to participate.

Already this year there has been the regular Greek competition in touch football and volleyball, with team badminton listed to start next week. There are in progress singles and doubles tournaments in horseshoes and an all-college ping pong match will start soon.

One of the big days for the intramural department will be Jan. 7, 1941, for on that day there will be held the first mural basketball jamboree. At noon that day eight fraternity teams will take the floor to play in the preview game of the season. Four teams, Sigma Mu Chi, Delta Kappa Phi, Independents and Nippons will be pitted against the Delta Pi Omicron, Alpha Chi Nu, and the Sigma Zeta Epsilon "A" and "B" league quintets. The game will consist of four quarters with each team participating in one quarter. The final score will be the combined scores of the four teams on each side. Drawings will be given next week.

Two days after this event the regular "A" league schedule will open with seven teams slated for action. Along the casaba line it is noted that "B" league games this year will be at noon instead of 4 o'clock. There is also a hope that Open League basketball for varsity players may also be worked in at the end of the regular season. With this extensive program, touching many new sports, the outlook for the 1941 season is bright, according to Coach Parks and Frank Walter.

Zetes Undefeated In Volleyball Play

STANDINGS
(Through Tuesday)

	W.	L.
Sigma Zeta Epsilon	4	0
Delta Kappa Phi	4	1
Delta Pi Omicron	2	2
Independents	2	2
Alpha Chi Nu	2	3
Sigma Mu Chi	1	3
Nippons	0	4

Showing power at all times, the "dark horse" Sigma Zeta Epsilon volleyball team, emerged from its state of darkness to find itself leading the chase as intramural volleyball play rapidly approached its final games.

It was the Tuesday before Thanksgiving that found the hitherto undefeated Omicrons taste their first setback from Jimmy Paulson's Delta Kappa Phi sextet to the tune of 2 to 0. The Zetes boomed over their fourth straight win swamping the Nippons in two straight games. In the third game that day, the close one from the Chi Nus, by a 2-to-1 score.

Last Tuesday the Mu Chis registered their first win, a surprising 2-to-1 victory over the highly rated Independents. This defeat dropped the Barbs from any mathematical chance of winning the crown. The Nippons lost again, this time to the Delta Kapps and the Chi Nus took the Omicrons.
